

05/08/15 - Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot - Review

Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot ? Review

In this post I am going to review one of Magnums newer boots the Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot. The Magnum Viper range was released by Magnum to replace the Magnum Cobra range. The Magnum viper range boots have different specs to the old cobra range. In this post I am talking about one Magnum Viper and that is the Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot.

Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot ? Look

This boot is an 8 inch all leather boot with a modern look. Even with the Modern look to the boot still has a very profession look to it. It has a cushion on the Ankle to protect the ankle and this can be seen when looking at the boot. This would normally look out of place on a pair of boots but Magnum have managed to make it look like part of the boot which is a very nice touch. The look of the Magnum viper pro all leather boot is hard to put down as it is a very very good looking boot.

Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot ? What does it offer?

This boot is full of technology and Certification. The boot is fully waterproof. This is a good if you are looking for a boot to keep your feet dry through out your long shift. It has a moisture wicking lining that is designed to keep at the perfect temperature at all times even for the longest days. This is a massive plus as some times we just want our feet to be comfortable. The sole unit on the Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot has a PVA mid sole this gives you more cushion on your feet. This makes the boot more comfortable even while walking on the hardest ground. While I used this I found them to be very accurate in all the Specs.

The Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot has sole unit that is slip resistant. This sole is also certified in this and it has a slip resistant rating of SRA. This means the boots has passed EU tests to be slip resistant. This is not the only EU certification this boot has. It also has EN ISO 20347:2004. This means this boot has been tested and certified to be used as a occupation pair of footwear meaning they are aimed at the police market and are allowed to been worn. All in all this is a great boot with a nice look and a professional all leather finish.

Magnum viper pro waterproof all leather boot ? should I get a pair?

My advise would be to get a pair. You know the brand Magnum Boots will not let you down they have been around for a long time. You can get this boot in many places I got mine from Patrolstore.com at only £81 I though these to be perfect for all police officers to try. GO GET A PAIR!!